Volunteer Spotlight: Joe Flood

An active volunteer with NAMI SCC since 2010, Joe Flood was invited to sit on a panel at NAMI’s recently held National Convention in San Antonio, Texas. We think this is a first for NAMI SCC. The panel topic was “Emerging Technologies to Improve Care”; sitting on the panel with Joe were NAMI Medical Director Dr. Kenneth Duckworth and NAMI President Keris Myrick, Ph.D.

How did this exciting development come about? Joe was on our Fundraising and Corporate Outreach committees and was asked to contact NAMI’s COO about our pioneering Corporate Outreach project. At the same time, Joe was being encouraged to repurpose a previously developed mobile diabetic app for mental health monitoring. This effort became the Personal Digital Physician (PDP) app, a continuous personal reporting system that utilizes physical data to improve the diagnosis and treatment of mental illness. It is prevention focused, supplementing and improving the effectiveness of increasingly shorter primary care office visits. You can view the PDP presentation at www.namisantaclara.org.

Joe updated the NAMI COO about progress on the mobile app, and within moments of updating her, Dr. Duckworth emailed an invitation to present PDP at the convention.

According to Joe, “Presenting PDP at the convention was exciting and a wonderful opportunity, not to mention a bit intimidating. I learned a lot and it’s helping to advance development along with providing excellent visibility for NAMI Santa Clara County’s valuable work.”

Currently, Joe is working on getting funding to move development of the PDP to the next level. If you’d like to learn more about this, contact Joe at joeflood@bellsouth.net.

Culturally Adapted, School-Based Suicide Prevention, Dr. Shashank V. Joshi
NAMI General Meeting Write-Up
June 11, 2013

By Cole Buxbaum

Dr. Shashank V. Joshi is the Director of Training in Child & Adolescent Psychiatry and Director of the School Mental Health Team of Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital at Stanford. He discussed the problem of suicide risk and depression in culturally diverse communities, including Palo Alto and San Francisco.

He has been working with schools in Palo Alto and other areas on adolescent treatment of behavioral abnormalities. A few years ago, he became involved with NAMI on a concept called Supporting Alliance, meaning that there must be a therapeutic relationship between a student, her/his parents, therapists, teachers/school staff and peers to prevent suicide or self-destruction.

Dr. Joshi believes that teachers must be given training to understand what a student is going through to better decide what action should be taken. Each student can go from a normal developmental range to an abnormal one, and if problems become critical, this can lead to suicide in severe cases.

Pathways to adolescent depression include life experiences, genetics, cognitive style, emotional regulation, and level of anxiety arousal (how easily upset, how intensely felt, capacity for humor).

Some statistics about depression in teens (average onset is age 15) are as follows: About 20–25% have had an episode; 10–14% have had a major one; 20–50% have had a parent with depression; Of teens who have depression, 25% fall asleep in class, and 22% when doing homework; 50% of teens say that every night they send, read or receive text messages (obviously impacting the amount of sleep they get). “Your life is reflected in your sleep; your sleep is a reflection of your life.”

According to data from a 2009 Youth Risk Behavior Survey: 1) 26.1% of teens felt sad or hopeless and almost daily for two consecutive weeks; 2) 13.8% of youth recently considered suicide; 3) In the last 12 months, 10.1% made a plan of how they would attempt suicide; 4) In the last 12 months, 6.3% attempted suicide. In 2009 in Palo Alto, five teens committed suicide compared to the national average; this is a 20x increase from other years.

Youth need protective factors such as positive values, relationships and experiences. Youth with low asset values are more likely to engage in risky behaviors and fail to achieve success at school. Suicidal teens are less likely to go to an adult for assistance. Family support is very valuable, including positive communication, family fun night and barbecues.

Gunn High in Palo Alto is currently participating in a program called Sources of Strength, a best-practice youth suicide prevention project that utilizes the power of peer social networks to change unhealthy norms and culture and ultimately prevent suicide, bullying and substance abuse. The program is designed to increase help-seeking behaviors and connections between peers and caring adults with a focus on hope, help and strength.

Sources of Strength emphasizes engaging school, community and adults; recruiting and training peer leaders and adult advisors; and involving peer leaders in prevention activities.

More information about youth suicide may be found at these websites: http://sourcesofstrength.com & http://psnpaloalto.com.
7 Cups of Tea Connects People in Need with Trained Listeners

NAMI SCC and 7 Cups of Tea (a phone/text chat line) are now partners. Our website, www.namisantaclara.org, now includes access to NAMI Listeners through 7 Cups of Tea. NAMI Listeners can offer emotional health and well-being support services to people who need to talk to someone or need extra emotional support. NAMI Listeners are trained Active Listeners who are standing by, ready to lend an ear when needed. NAMI Listeners don’t judge or try to solve problems or say what to do. Listeners just listen. They understand. They provide empathic support.

If you or anyone you know needs a kind ear to listen, go to our website and click on the big blue “Want to Talk? We Can Help” box. This service makes connecting to a listener easy and convenient, while remaining completely anonymous. A secure bridging technology makes the connection, so neither the caller nor the listener’s phone number or IP address is revealed.

If you’re interested in becoming a NAMI Listener, go to www.7cupsoftea.com, click “Start Connecting,” scroll down and click on “Become a Listener.” Identify yourself as a NAMI Listener, build your NAMI Listener profile and complete the online training. This is a wonderful opportunity to make a compassionate, helpful difference in people’s lives.

Sincerely,

Diana Guido

NAMI Santa Clara County Executive Director

NEW: Family WRAP Group

By Diana Guido

Family WRAP (Wellness Recovery Action Plan) encourages each family member to add their own personal knowledge of themselves to address a plan that will promote wellness and recovery from mental illness. It is a living document to deal with triggers, and what it takes to stay well. This is a lifeboat for families dealing with serious mental illness.

The Office of Family Affairs, within the SCC Mental Health Department, is offering WRAP to families on Wednesday nights. This is not a drop-in group. Please contact Diana Guido in advance at Diana.Guido@hhs.sccgov.org or 408-792-2166.

The Office of Family Affairs assists families in navigating the behavioral health system of care. They offer direct support, information and education with the goal of providing recovery and hope. They also offer a host of referrals to community resources to link families to wellness and recovery everywhere.

Mood Disorders Day at Stanford

On July 27, the Bipolar Disorders Clinic held its 9th Annual Mood Disorders Dialogue Day — a gathering of top researchers and mental health professionals to discuss the latest treatment options and jumpstart dialog on mood disorders and other related mental illnesses. The clinic is a part of the Stanford University School of Medicine and is a leading program using the latest research and knowledge of genetics and the brain, combined with the extensive resources of Stanford, to create breakthrough treatments for mood disorders.

Dr. Terence Ketter, chief of the Bipolar Disorders Clinic, welcomed speakers and guests with the latest developments on research and updates on the clinic and its partners.

This year, the annual mood disorders event title changed from Education Day to Dialogue Day. The goal was to create a cultural exchange whereby communication about mood disorders and all mental health was open and free from stigma. Instead of the usual Q&A session at the end of the day, facilitated groups were formed to brainstorm ideas on how to create better dialogue promoting mental health issues. Some topics included bridging the gap between patient and practitioner; getting a true picture of mental illness; and addressing medical problems such as obesity & sleep apnea that may play a role in treatment of mental illness. The group sessions were well received; participation from all groups can be found at http://bipolar.stanford.edu/documents/BrainstormingDiscussionNotes.doc.

2013 NAMI SCC Picnic

NAMI SCC Annual Picnic 2013
Our annual picnic was another great party this year. The weather could not have been better. Of course this wonderful event could not and would not happen without all our dedicated volunteers. Our committee members worked behind the scenes shopping and getting our donated raffle items ready.

On picnic day, several people helped transport the goods and set up. Our kitchen staff and grillers once again did a fantastic job of feeding almost 200 people. The raffle and check-in staff kept everything organized and running smoothly. The music and entertainment, as always, were enjoyed by all. And the egg toss was such a great way to end the day. Of course, the clean-up crew was there to make sure the place was tidy and everything put away.

Many, many thanks to all of you who made this event happen. Thank you for your donations, the yummy side dishes and, most of all, for your time and dedication to NAMI SCC.
NAMI Walks

Final Notes on NAMIWalk 2013
By Gini Mitchem
NAMIWalk SF Bay Area Steering Committee Co-Chair
and NAMI SCC Walk Committee

NAMIWalk 2013 was fabulous! (Have I said that before? Probably.) We are still finalizing the reports, and they’ll be available next month. Another big thank you for all that you did.

NAMI SCC hosted an excellent meeting of the NAMIWalk Executive Committee on August 2, and many thanks to Jen Hong, Christine Baucus, Kathy Forward, and Alex Gorelik for participating from SCC along with Steve Way from NAMI San Mateo, Steve Bischoff from NAMI Alameda, Joe Rose from NAMI Alameda County South and Giff Boycesmith from NAMI SF.

We are moving ahead to 2014! As always, if you would like to help in the planning of this event, please let us know. Our Steering Committee meetings for all participating affiliates will start very soon, and we’d be delighted to talk to you. Contact Gini Mitchem at vmitchem@hotmail.com or 408-259-2256.

What a Walk We Had!
By Rick Vierhus and Barbara Thompson

So many great team members, families, friends, pets, all together walking, celebrating together, connecting with our community, recharging our batteries and filling our coffers with well-donated funds to fight stigma and educate, and support our community. You did it and soon the results will be at hand and we can admire the bounty gained in the 2013 effort.

Brave Hearts are the best!

NAMIWalk SF Bay Area Celebration & Debriefing Meeting
By Donna Mechanic

On Saturday, June 22, Gini Mitchem and I attended a Celebration/Debriefing Meeting at Jack London Square. The meeting was a combination of debriefing and thank you for the steering committee’s hard work for another successful NAMIWalk. During brunch, Laurie Williams, NAMIWalk director, asked the attendees for ideas or changes they would like to see in order to make 2014 even better.

NAMI SCC Ongoing Activities
Supporting others is part of the recovery process.

NOTE: Connection Recovery Support Group meets every Sunday 3–4:30 P.M. at the NAMI SCC office (1150 S. Bascom Avenue, Suite 24, San Jose).

Please arrive between 2:45 P.M. and 3:10 P.M. when building doors are open. This will reduce group interruptions. Thanks!

People over 18 years of age with a mental illness are welcome. This is a drop-in group and does not require preregistration. Family members & consumers will find other support groups (listed in the newsletter) more appropriate when attending together.

Connect 2 U and Nature Walks

IMPORTANT NOTE ABOUT THESE PROGRAMS: Attendance has been down for both Connect 2 U and our Nature Walks. We very much want these activities to continue and are looking for new people to lead them and ignite enthusiasm; we need two leaders per activity. Please contact the NAMI office, if interested.

Connect 2 U: Come to our office on Sat., Sept. 7 & 21, 2–4 P.M. for board games (Bingo, Pictionary, Cards, Dominos and more), art projects and light snacks. Info: Kathy, 408-354-7077.

Nature Walks: Join the group on Sat., Sept. 14 & 28, 9–11 A.M. Rain or Shine! The group meets at Campbell Park in Campbell (corner of Campbell & Gilman) near the playground.

Well done!
