General Meeting, Tuesday, January 10, 2017

Anxiety Disorders, Linsey Utzinger, Ph.D.

Dr. Linsey Utzinger is a Clinical Assistant Professor in the Division of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry at Stanford University School of Medicine. She specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of children, adolescents and young adults with eating disorders.

In her talk, Dr. Utzinger will review different types of anxiety disorders, focusing on identification and treatment. In addition, she will discuss disorders that commonly co-occur with anxiety disorders, including eating disorders.

Join us in the auditorium of Good Samaritan Hospital (basement of main building) at 7:30 P.M. for an informational meeting followed by the presentation and Q&A from 8–9 P.M.

NOTE: Good Samaritan Hospital is located at 2425 Samaritan Drive, San Jose. You can find directions at www.maps.yahoo.com.

NAMI SCC Board Officer Nominations

In accordance with our bylaws, our annual election of officers will take place at the March, 2017 General Meeting. We need candidates for:
- President
- 4 Vice Presidents
- Treasurer
- Secretary

If you are interested in a position or wish to suggest someone, please contact the NAMI SCC office. If you are interested in serving on the nominating committee, contact NAMI Board VP Beverly at blozoff@namisantaclara.org

Nominations will be accepted from the floor at the February and March general meetings.

NAMIWalks 2016 Results

Exciting news: NAMI Santa Clara County has exceeded its goal of $250,000. All proceeds fund NAMI programs and outreach.

Special thanks to the 2016 NAMIWalks SV Committee—Harold Brown (Board VP & Walk Chair), Gini Mitchem, Kathy Forward, John Forward, Barbara Thompson, Donna Mechanic and Will Shaw. They worked tirelessly to make the Walk a success.

Plans are already underway for the 2017 NAMIWalks Silicon Valley. If you are interested in serving on the committee, please contact Dyane Hendricks at 408-453-0400 x3125 or dhendricks@namisantaclara.org

Dealing with Post-Election Stress

Are you experiencing distressing feelings—anxiety, depression, stress or anger—over the recent presidential election? You do not have to deal with this alone. You can call our Warmline Help Desk to talk to someone who will listen nonjudgmentally and offer support.

You can also check out the following suggestions for dealing with this political transition period:

- Be gentle with yourself and others. This election has been hard on many of us.
- Seek out support from friends, family or organizations who will listen compassionately to your feelings without judging your political views. Focus on feelings, not opinions.
- Practice self-care: Engage in calming activities, e.g., listening to music, walking, being out in nature or engaging in any hobby or activity that helps you stay centered/peaceful.

Try to stay in the present rather than regretting the past or worrying about the future. Practice relaxation, mindfulness or meditation.

Let go of what you cannot change. Take a “wait and see” attitude if you can.

Identify what you can change in your life.

- Adjust your attitude: focus on gratitude for what you have; cultivate love and compassion for yourself and others; agree to disagree; practice tolerance and look for what you have in common with others. We all deserve respect.
- Take action: If you are ready, find a way to become involved in a social or political cause that is important to you.

Ask for the wisdom to know the difference between what you can and cannot change. Seek guidance if you have a spiritual practice or therapeutic support.
Adrian Camp, “Madness and Voices of Understanding”
October 11, 2016 General Meeting Write-Up

Adrian Camp gave a very thoughtful presentation about the triumphs and tragedies he has gone through during the 20 years. He described his three breakdowns, at 19, 25 and again at 29. After his third breakdown, he started hearing voices, which he refers to as “spirits,” and gave himself over to a higher consciousness. Now he can be “in presence” with others and himself and is free.

Adrian is in his early 40s and continues to feel better and calmer. He made peace with meds a long time ago but has been able to decrease the amount he takes and is on a very low dose. Paramount to his well-being is adherence to a self-care system with daily priority given to the following (in this order): sleep, exercise, food, friends, art & music.Breathing is also very important and he practices mindfulness and meditation. He knows that when he is not taking care of himself, he is most susceptible to the “dysfunction of his own mind.”

Adrian hears voices and stated that it is not so much what the voices say as how he interprets and internalizes them. When he is taking care of himself—especially with sleep, exercise, food—the voices fade & allow him to separate from them. Adrian graduated from UC-Santa Cruz more than 10 years ago at which time he was introduced to NAMI Santa Cruz. Since then, he has taught many NAMI classes and is grateful for the opportunity that NAMI has given him to speak—which he does both locally and out of state. According to Adrian, NAMI has given him his voice.

For the past five years, Adrian has been involved at Second Story Peer Respite House in Santa Cruz and currently serves as manager. Second Story is a viable alternative to a psychiatric unit. It is run by peers who have gone through extreme states and offers relationships and community; it is a place where people are seen as human beings and not their mental illness.

NARSAD Greeting Cards and Music for the Holidays

NARSAD (National Alliance for Research on Schizophrenia and Depression) creates greeting and note cards, as well as gifts for the holidays. If you are interested in purchasing any, call Debi at NAMI San Mateo County at 650-638-0800.

2017 “Directing Change” Program & Film Contest

Students throughout California are invited to Direct Change by submitting 60-second films in three categories: Suicide Prevention / Mental Health Matters / Through the Lens of Culture. The winning teams and their associated high schools will win prizes, receive mental health or suicide prevention programs for their schools, participate in a meeting with state legislators on these topics and attend an awards ceremony. Visit www.directingchange.org for all the information including contest rules. Two important dates to remember:

♦ Jan. 15, 2017: Intent to Direct Form is due
♦ Mar. 1, 2017: Film is due

Staff Spotlight: Greg Osborn

Greg Osborn has been involved with NAMI since 2000 when he joined a support group in Walnut Creek. After moving to Santa Clara, he became involved with NAMI Santa Clara County. Currently, Greg is the coordinator for the NAMI Provider Course and has also been one of their teachers since 2008.

Greg is retired and living in senior housing in Santa Clara. Working part-time at NAMI has been of tremendous value in helping him maintain his mental health in a meaningful and stable manner.

In addition to working at NAMI, Greg enjoys reading, playing tennis, practicing the piano and spending time with his five grandchildren.
